PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP
Thursday, November 9, 2017
“Drug Diversion Training and Best Practice Prescribing of Controlled Substances”

Please join the Family Medicine Foundation of West Virginia for a 3-hour “Drug Diversion Training and Best Practice Prescribing of Controlled Substances” lecture, to be held on Thursday, November 9, 2017, from 6:00 pm – 9:15 pm at the Pullman Plaza Hotel in Huntington, WV.

Our lecturer will be Alison Vargovich, PhD, Clinical Psychologist with the West Virginia University Department of Family Medicine in Morgantown, WV.

This lecture will satisfy the continuing education requirements set forth by the West Virginia Legislature and appropriate licensing boards for MDs, DOs, NPs, PAs, RNs, LPNs, and pharmacists. This program is required for each West Virginia licensee who “prescribes, administers, or dispenses a controlled substance.” The cost of this lecture is $95.00. Please RSVP; dinner included.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES (including, but not limited to):

- Drug diversion, including West Virginia statistics on prescription drug abuse, misuse, and resulting deaths;
- Epidemiology of chronic pain and misuse of opioids;
- Indications for opioids in chronic pain treatment, including general characteristics, toxicities, OIC, and drug side effects and interactions;
- Initiation/ongoing management of chronic pain patients, including treatment objectives/functional goals, monitoring and periodic review, referrals, consultations, informed consent, prescribing agreements, urine screens, pill counts, patient education on safe use and storage/disposal of opioids, discontinuation/termination due to lack of benefits or increased risks, and documentation/medical records;
- Examination of patient evaluation and risk assessment and related tools, with proper usage/administration of Naloxone;
- Identification of diversion/drug seeking tactics/behaviors;
- Best practice methods for working with drug seeking patients and diversion, including new online resources;
- Compliance with controlled substances laws and rules;
- Registration with and use of the West Virginia Controlled Substances Monitoring Program established in WV Code Chapter 60A, Article 9;
- Case study of a patient with chronic pain; and
- Compliance with state and federal laws.
The Family Medicine Foundation of West Virginia was proud to partner with the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation to develop an effective and replicable model to manage chronic pain medication use and abuse in West Virginia, a state currently facing a prescription drug abuse epidemic.

As part of this project, the Family Medicine Foundation of West Virginia has collected, analyzed, and reported on narrative information, clinical data, and feedback from health care provider attendees. Please provide as much or as little information as you feel comfortable with, including your name, profession, address, phone number, email, and more. Of course, please omit protected patient health information in compliance with HIPAA and other applicable rules and regulations. All information submitted will be kept strictly confidential. Thank you for your feedback and interest in our project!

To get involved or submit information online, please visit
